

3" TRS Lever Latch Seat Belt Safety Check Dec 2015

TRS Nascar lever Latch harnesses.

We have had a small number of 3" Nascar harnesses returned where the user has experienced a too easy opening of the lever latch. After investigation it was found that the grub screws holding the detent balls had either not been set correctly or had worked loose during use. If the grub screws become loose through use this can affect the positive operation of the release and in some cases could cause unintentional opening.

If you think your harness may be affected, please contact TRS or your supplying dealer to arrange a free inspection and, where necessary, rectification.

We will inspect the lever latch and if necessary replace it with a 2016 version which incorporates several improvements. There will obviously be no charge for this. If you have any stock on your shelves please contact us to arrange replacements if necessary.

We are extremely sorry for any inconvenience, but you will appreciate that with a safety product nothing can be left to chance.

Yours sincerely
